After he left the chair he went about among the other persons who were waiting to testify, and Mayor Wells requested him to leave the room.

Charles B. Gerhard of No. 484 Forest Park boulevard testified that since the plant had been started he frequently had headaches, and that previous to this time he had not had a headache in fitteen years. He said that the odor reminded him of the smell noticed while riding through a tunnel. He offered his home to the Board of Health to live in for one month, all expenses to be paid by him, if the members would agree to sleep there every night.

Among those who testified were Mrs. R. B. Sulton, Mrs. Sidney O'Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bordley, Mrs. Delia Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schaeffer and Carl Hinrichs, instructor in chemistry at the St. Louis University.

Clinton, Mo., July 39.—The Clinton Chautauqua closed to-night. Samuel Gompers, who was to deliver the principal lecture to-day, telegraphed that he was called to New York on strike matters and could not come.

At the morning session the Reverend Doctor Hameli presented diplomas to a large Bible class and paid a high tribute to the chautauqua.

In the afternoon Mrs. L. Ormiston Chant of London related her experiences taking medical supplies to the Grecian army in Crete during the Turco-Grecian war, for which she was given a Red Cross decoration by the King of Greece.

To-night after the regular programme a general reception was held. A solid silver service was presented by Clinton business men to Manager W. G. Archer.

BOY HOISTED BY ROOFERS SUFFERS FROM THE SHOCK.

old, last Monday afternoon. It was reported to the police yesterday. Playmates of the little fellow who wit nessed the occurrence state that the boy was unconscious when he reached the cornice, more than eighty feet above the ground. It is believed that the man who pulled the boy to the roof was ignorant of the nature of the burden attached to the end of the rope, as the cornice prevented him from looking directly downward. When little August, however, had been jerked uncerimoniously over the edge of the cornice, he was laid upon the sunscorched slates of the roof, and when he had recovered consciousness he was forced, it is stated, to walk several feet on the hot roof in his bare feet. The boy, who lives diagonally across the street from the school building, was in a state of nervous collarse when he reached his home. His father, August R. Mr. Schultz's return. Mr. Schultz, his son and two of the latter's playmates, George Knopf, 13 years old, of No. 1529 South Seventh street, and Edwin Horn, 16 years old, of No. 1501 South Seventh street, visited the Four Courts yesterday and laid the matter before Assistant resecuting Attorney Dalton. Mr. Schultz furnished Mr. Dalton with the following names, which, he claims, are those of the men who were at work on the building when his son was mistreated; G. A. Parker of No. 605 South Broadway, Joseph Fox of No. 1255 South Third street, and John Fox of No. 1056 North Seventeenth

Mr. Dalton instructed the pelice to investigate the case, and if the names of the men who drew the boy to the roof can be ascertained warrants will be issued.

SMALL BOY'S STORY. According to the story told by Schultz, and which is substanuated by the accounts of the occurrence by his playmates, there were several little boys playing around the school building Monday

The children say that they were not interfering with the roofers. One little fellow, whose name is not known, asked one of the roofers to give him a ride to the top of the roof. The man started loward top of the roof. The man started toward the boy, but the latter's heart falled him and he ran from the schoolyard.
